Hello!

Please review the materials provided here and be prepared to discuss the proposed plan for archiving pesticides on IRIS. Attached is a spreadsheet that categorizes and provides information on the pesticides on IRIS. The names of the pesticides in the spreadsheet are color coded and the key is at the bottom left of the spreadsheet.

The following pesticides are proposed for ARCHIVING:

- Names in White – these IRIS entries are empty
- Names in Gray – OPP has a publicly available assessment that is more current with replacements for all of the IRIS reference values.
- Names in Purple – partially archive. OPP has a publicly available assessment that provides replacements for some of the IRIS reference values.

The following pesticides need FURTHER DISCUSSION to determine whether to archive or not:

- Names in Yellow – need a publicly available OPP assessment and more discussion.
- Names in Green – need to resolve various issues noted in the comments column

The following pesticides are NOT TO BE ARCHIVED:

- Names in Blue – the IRIS assessment is the most current
- Names in Orange – an IRIS assessment is underway

Our web contractor has been very busy with the upcoming EPA-wide website changes so we do not yet have mock up web pages. We will share draft archive webpages with you as soon as they are ready.

I would like to focus our discussion initially on the pesticides proposed for archiving. I would like to identify a list of pesticides that we can archive soon. After identifying and archiving the “easy” ones, we can subsequently take another look at the ones that require more attention.

Thank you!

Norm
